An armed security officer (ASO) program for KDCA flights is also available.

Why QS Security Services

Because of our in-house expertise, we have the ability to leverage an extensive network of highly skilled security professionals with decades of unmatched security expertise gained from federal, state, and local law enforcement, as well as the U.S. military. Closely vetted security partners will provide security services such as secure ground transportation, close-protection agents, and medically trained personnel—all according to the high standards of QS Security Services™.

Current Primary Area of Focus

Because of the travel volume by NetJets and the current threat environment of Mexico and Paris, QS Security Services will be offered as a premium service to NetJets Owners traveling to these areas. Each location will have a recommended minimum-security option that corresponds to the current threat level established by the U.S. Department of State. All security solutions are customizable to fit your specific travel needs.
